Gen. Moore Resigns.

General Milton Moore, brigadier-commander of the Missouri National Guard, has tendered his resignation to Governor Stone, and the result will be that the state officers will follow suit, and that the dissolution of the militia, as a body, may ultimately come to pass.

The resignation of General Moore is the result of the legislature's refusal to grant the militia sufficient money to keep up its standing.

His action is viewed with alarm, and it is already said that the Third regiment, stationed in this city, will soon disband. Gen. Moore has been connected with the state militia since 1878. He is a resident of Kansas City.

It is said to the credit of Holt county's representatives—Messrs. Kennish and Murray, they were for a liberal appropriation to help sustain our state national guard.

The Appropriation Record.

In spite of the hard times the congress which is now happily dead made next to the last democratic congress the largest appropriation in time of peace. Evidently the incompetents and noncommittal statesmen believed in spending borrowed money with a reckless hand. It was the 52nd congress which was at one time called, in derision, the Billion Dollar congress. That congress, which was presided over by "Czar" Reed, and which passed the McKinley law made appropriations aggregating for the two years, $988,417,183.34. Of this amount $25,421,907.25 was to cover deficiencies from the preceding congress, which was Democratic. This was the congress which was derided on the stump and in the party press. The 52nd congress, which was elected very largely through making voters believe that the 52nd congress had been an extravagant one and which was pledged to economy, appropriated $1,026,925,049.72, only $7,643,332 of which was for deficiencies left by the Republican congress which preceded it. Here is a clear increase of nearly $100,000,000, and if the difference in the deficiency appropriation be considered, as it ought to be, then the increase is between fifty and sixty millions.

But what is the record of the congress which adjourned, or rather died, last week? The figures have not yet been fully compiled, but the estimates are placed at $994,000,000, which is $5,000,000 more than was appropriated by the so-called billion dollar congress. When the difference in the times is considered this increase shows a recklessness that is alarming, for we have been borrowing money to pay the current expenses of the government. The record is one that is simply appalling. The congress which died Monday has been trying to run the country by increasing the expenditures and decreasing the income which is purely a Democratic way of management.

Professional Agitators.

Eugene Debs when on the stand as a witness on his own behalf the other day in Chicago, made some interesting disclosures regarding the profitable character of being a professional agitator. He stated that as the editor of the Locomotive Fireman's Magazine he received a salary of $4,000 per year, and as president of the American Railway union his compensation was $9,000 per year. The salary for years paid to the general master workman of the Knights of Labor was $5,000, reduced to $3,000. These are salaries that would make some of the men who are responsible as managers of our greatest daily newspapers smile with decided approval if extended to their cases. There is no objection to the payment of reasonable compensation to the heads of these organizations, when they devote their entire time to the business of the association, but it is a well known fact that none of them do take up the whole time in that way. In addition to that, when from home addressing subordinate associations, their hotel bills, etc., are generally paid by their friends, so that in the end they are better paid than any other class of laborers in the country. These dollars, too, come out of men who can ill afford it, when we take into consideration the fact that there are other large expenses that must come out of the meagre wages of the humble laborer who must contribute the voluntary tax.

H. H. Bowman; Pub. Enquirer; of Bremen, Ind., writes: Last week our little girl baby the only one we have was taken sick with cramp. After two doctors failed to give relief and life was hanging on a mere thread we tried One Minute Cough Cure and its life was saved. Sold by T. S. Hinde, Oregon, Mo.

Home Lexicology.

There seems to be a mania now for municipal investigations, and it has broken out in every possible form and in a thousand different places. Boston proposes to begin it with reference to its fire, police, street and water departments. It is well enough now that the fever is on to go to the bottom all around, and settle the question once for all. Out of this struggle may come some plans for guarding for the future against the iniquities that have accumulated in American city governments. Epidemics are generally fruitful of new remedies to save human life, as they may be in this case in regard to municipal governments.

When the 51st congress appropriated $988,000,000, the "Billion Dollar congress" was a song that was on the lips of every Democrat, but with the appropriations authorized by this congress amounting to $1,015,000,000, the song is turned to a screech-yowl wail.

The Interests of the Farmer.

The continued exclusion of American products from foreign markets on account of certain provisions of our new tariff law is one that seriously affects the interests of the farmer. Our exports of agricultural staples in 1894 were far below those of any recent year in value; and these retaliatory proceedings are calculated to do further injury to a class of citizens having special claims upon the favor of the government. Under the Republican reciprocity policy, the markets for our farm products were being gradually extended, and good prices were being obtained for all that we sold; but as soon as that policy was abolished by a Democratic congress, the demand began to lessen and the prices to fall. Such a result was predicted by the Republicans, and now it is an accomplished fact. The experiment has been tried, and it has turned out to be a failure. There is no room for discussion where we thus have practical and conclusive testimony as to the effect of a given theory. The farmers who voted the Democratic ticket in 1892 with the belief that they were promoting their own welfare can readily see that they made a terrible mistake, for the proof of it is part of their personal experience.

It is well to remember that in 1889, under Republican rule, wheat sold at an average of 92c; in 1892 it sold at 62c; and in 1894 it sold at less than 50c. Cotton sold at 85c per pound in 1892, and at less than 5c in 1894. Corn brought a better price in 1894 than in 1892, but only because there was much less of it to sell, and many farmers did not have any. The crop of 515,000,000 bushels of wheat in 1892 put $111,000,000 into the pockets of the American farmers, whereas for the crop of 1894, amounting to 400,000,000 bushels, they received only $278,000,000, a loss of $133,000,000. They got $802,000,000 for a crop of 1,628,000,000 bushels of corn in 1892, and only $624,000,000 for a crop of 1,212,000,000 bushels in 1894. The cotton crop of 6,717,000 bales in 1892 sold for $331,000,000, while the crop of 9,500,000 bales in 1894 was not sold for more than $275,000,000. These figures show what the Democratic plan of conducting the affairs of the government is costing the farmers. Their losses are probably greater than those of any other element of the population. They have to bear the heaviest portion of the burden of tariff reform and anti-reciprocity. But the time is coming when they will have a chance to rectify the mistake which has proved to be so expensive to them, and they will certainly not fail to vote for the restoration of the Republican party to power.

The experience of Geo. A. Appgar, of German Valley, N. J., is well worth remembering. He was troubled with chronic diarrhoea and doctored for five months and was treated by four different doctors without benefit. He then began using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, of which one small bottle effected a complete cure. It is for sale by Clark O. Proud.

The Wheat Surplus Going.

According to advices received by the department of agriculture the wheat surplus bids fair to disappear altogether before very long, if farmers continue to feed the grain to stock at the rate they are reported to be now doing. Very generally throughout the wheat country, according to the statements received, the small mills are grinding as much for feed as for flour, and the estimate is made that at the present rate about 50 per cent of last year's crop in Kansas and some of the other states will be fed to stock before another crop comes on. It will then become a question whether or not wheat can profitably be raised for feed. Instead of making calculations on "dollar wheat" it will then devolve upon the planter to decide which of the crops he can raise with the best results until the bread-stuffs market shall require all the wheat raised. Wheat will be fed to stock so long as its price for flouring shall be on a level with that of corn. When it gets above that point it will have to depend upon the breadstuffs market for its support, and unless there is a demand for all in sight down will go the price again.

But there is encouragement in the facts given as to the extent to which the live stock industry is using up the troublesome surplus on hand.

English Convict System.

A very interesting question is presented to those interested in the diminution of prison convicts in the United States. It has been shown by the latest prison reports from England that while convicts are on the increase on the continent of Europe and in the United States they have been rapidly diminishing in Great Britain not only in actual numbers, but in ratio of the population. In 1870, when the population in England was only twenty-two millions and a half, the total number of long-time convicts was 11,800; and in 1894, when the population had risen to thirty millions, the number of long-time convicts had been reduced to 41,800. The English prisons are large and administered upon the plan in use at the New York reformatory at Elmira, that is, where the convicts are below a certain age, they are sent to that prison. Notwithstanding the comparative novelty of the Elmira plan in the United States, results there have justified the belief that if prison punishments are to be inflicted for reformatory purpose, all the states pursuing the old method of dealing with convicts must seek some new method. The old one now in vogue has little efficiency for purposes of reformation and is scarcely effective for mere punishment.

Democrat Say It Is Fulfilled.

Even Democratic papers are beginning to see the similarity between the failure of Buchanan's administration, in its financial respects, to the failure of the present administration. The New York World recalls the fact that when Mr. Buchanan became president the public debt was only $28,959,000. In two years this was increased to $58,751,000, and by 1860 to $64,709,000. All this time the revenues showed a constant decrease. The World lays it to the lack of ability to understand the fundamental principle that the first duty of the government is to provide revenue to meet its expenditures so as to save its labor the heavy drain of interest on increasing debt. The "mere incompetence" of Buchanan's administration is now generally admitted, but the World wants to know if the Democratic party is to be led out of power by Mr. Cleveland in 1896 for as long a time as Mr. Buchanan led it out in 1860. We don't know, but we hope so.

Meanwhile the predictions of the Republican party that turning the whole government over to the Democrats would be returning to the conditions that prevailed previous to 1860, have been amply fulfilled, that they have been fulfilled is now admitted by a paper that, if it does not represent the highest intelligence of the Democratic party in the nation, at least represents the majority sentiment of that party. Hardly did papers as Republican as The Register expect such a hasty and complete fulfillment of all their predictions.

Affraid of Pneumonia.

Mrs. Catherine Black, of Le Roy, N. Y., took a severe cold. The physician feared Pneumonia. She took one bottle of Park's Cough Syrup and says: "It acted like magic. Stopped my cough and I am perfectly well now. I recommend it to everyone for Croup and Lung Trouble as I believed it saved my life." Sold by Clark O. Proud.

When the McKinley law went into effect in 1890 the interest bearing debt of 1890 was $25,313,110. When Harrison turned the government over to Cleveland in 1893 the debt was only $585,037,100. Which shows that under the McKinley law more than $100,000,000 of the debt was paid off. The debt now is $585,037,100 plus $100,000,000 borrowed in the shape of bonds, plus $800,000,000, which is the amount borrowed from the gold reserve of $100,000,000, a total of $745,037,100. Which is $15,000,000 more than the debt was when Harrison's administration began paying off the bonds. In other words it will take at least four years of Republican revenues and financial ability to reduce the debt to the point where it was when the present administration took up the reins of government. In other words the liquidation of the national debt, a sacred work to which the Republican party dedicated twenty-five years of service, has been retarded practically eight years, and all because the people in 1892 voted for a change, which has been a change indeed.

WHENEVER the government makes a loan it should live up to the agreement, at least to the extent of preventing the citizens from suffering loss on account of its violation. The bounty promised to sugar producers by congress was a pledge of the government's faith upon which the planters had a right to rely. On the strength of this pledge millions of dollars were expended in Louisiana and other states in the form of legitimate investment. By summarily repudiating the bounty the present congress has entailed a heavy loss on these investors and clearly violated an implied compact. The passage by the senate of a provision to partially make good these losses is consequently merely a measure of justice which the house and executive ought to assent to without hesitation.

THERE is a beautiful old legend that at creation's dawn an angel came down to earth to seek something to take back to heaven with it. It returned with a bouquet of flowers, a baby's smile, and a mother's love. When it reached the pearly gates of Paradise again, the flow'ers had withered, the baby's smile had vanished, but the mother's love was found to be as pure and eternal as the waters that flow by the heavenly throne and all the angels exclaimed: "There is nothing on earth pure enough for heaven but a mother's love." What a sublime thought and how moral this old legend teaches to mortal creatures.—Ex.

The Supreme Court of Ind., has handed down a decision, holding that a saloon keeper may be responsible for damages resulting to an intoxicated person who becomes intoxicated from liquor purchased in his saloon. The decision was rendered on a case that went up from Huntington county. Louis Gaus, a saloon keeper in Huntington, was sued by Joseph Siney for the death of a son of Siney. The court said that a person who sets in action any dangerous agency of force is responsible for the consequences.

Cure for Headache.

As a remedy for all forms of Headache Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It effects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual headache yields to its influence. The Dakota Hot Springs.

The Hot Springs of Arkansas have long been deservedly popular, for the reason that there has been no other place that has filled the requirements of both a health and a pleasure resort. This state of affairs has changed. The Hot Springs of South Dakota have, in recent years, been thrown open to the people, and because of their delightful situation and great curative qualities, are becoming more popular every day. Situated as this resort is, in the famous Black Hills, in the midst of beautiful mountain scenery, possessing that peculiar balsamic atmosphere which is in itself health giving, with waters that are pronounced by experts equal if not superior to those of any other mineral springs in the world, it will soon outrank any other like resort.

The hotel accommodations are of the best—hotels with all the modern conveniences and conveniences. The Evans Hotel, built of pink sand stone with steam heat, electric lights, and every room an outside one, is easily the best conducted house between Chicago and Denver. Fine bath houses are connected with the best hotels. The rates of all the hotels are very reasonable. The surrounding country is more than picturesque—it is wonderful. The marvelous "Wind Cave"; the falls of Fall River; Battle Mountain, the old Indian battle ground; Deadwood and the gold fields; and the famous Bad Lands are all within driving distance. The mammoth plunge bath at the Springs is noted as being one of the largest natural formations in the world. So beautiful are the surroundings, and so many the amenities of this "Cradle of America," that it is rapidly becoming the "Mecca" not only for invalids, but for pleasure seekers as well. The "Burlington Route" reaches there in a day and a half from St. Louis. Pullman sleepers and free chair cars on train No. 15 run to Lincoln and from Lincoln free chair cars and sleepers run through to the springs.

The Bankers' Magazine shows that the recent depression has cost the farmers of this country more than a hundred million dollars in each year since 1892. The farm value of the wheat, cotton and corn crops in 1892 was $1,286,300,000, in 1893 $1,000,000,000, and in 1894 $1,170,000,000. On the three crops alone the farmer was $186,000,000 less in 1893 and $116,000,000 behind in 1894.
